

FROM SETBACKS TO COMEBACKS: BOUNCING BACK STRONGER THAN EVER

It was indeed an intriguing session for the first year students as the speaker, Mr. Nagaprasad from Karnataka spoke so genuinely about his struggles and how he had sought the wrong ways to pass in his exams ; however he realised that there were no short cuts to succeed; he worked very hard to achieve his goals.

Naga Prasad soared beyond numerous obstacles, aiming to achieve significant milestones. In January 2001, he set a national record by crafting and launching 505 paper rockets within 60 minutes. Shortly after, in May 2002, he achieved a world record by typing continuously for 35 hours and 45 minutes on a personal computer, transcribing the holy books including the Quran, Bible, and Bhagwad Gita. His experiences of pain, distrust, and failure were transformed into a driving force behind his record-breaking accomplishments.

Today Naga Prasad is continuing on his journey as a motivator par excellence with zeal and commitment. This he was able to do and achieve because of the balance he inculcated out of the bitter experience and the better opportunities his life gave. He took his success and failures in his stride and with a positive approach “Face Troubles and Triumphs with the same intent. Do good always and by all means” is the value Naga Prasad cherishes the most in his life. Even today Naga Prasad is a towering and a living example for many to look up to for inspiration and motivation.

Mr. Nagaprasad inspiring the students!
